DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on January 11, 2007 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. The Amendment submitted on January 11, 2007, has been entered. Claims 1 and 7 have been amended. Therefore, the pending claims are 1 – 40. Claims 8 – 10, 13 – 24, 26 – 29, and 31 – 40 are withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a nonelected invention.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. The term “z-yarn” in claim 7 is indefinite. The applicant has fails to clearly define the term “z-yarn”. Can the “z-yarn” be any of the yarns in the fabric? How does the z-yarn relate to and intersect the other yarns in the fabric? It is unclear what structure is required by the term “z-yarn”. For purposes of examination, a “z-yarn” can be any yarn in a fabric layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

7. Claims 1, 7, 11, 12, 25, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jayaraman et al. (6,381,482) for the reasons of record.

8. Claims 1, 7, 11, 12, 25, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wheeler et al. (5,029,977) for the reasons of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

9. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

10. Claims 2 – 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Jayaraman et al. for the reason of record.

11. Claims 2 – 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Wheeler et al. for the reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

12. Applicant's arguments filed January 11, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that the prior art composite fabrics fail to teach that the 3-D composite material is made from a 3-D fabric (response, page 8 – 10). However, a fabric the fabrics of the prior art are inherently three-dimensional since they comprise a measurable thickness. While the fabric might not be very thick, the fabrics do not only exist in two dimensions. Thus, the fabrics are three-dimensional. If the applicant wishes to distinguish a 3-D fabric by a specific thickness of a specific structure have interconnected layers, the applicant must provide the term 3-D fabric with a specific definition or structure. Until then any fabric which has a measurable thickness, no matter how small, is interpreted as a three-dimensional structure. While the applicant recites certain descriptions of 3-D fabrics, the claims do not recite these descriptions or limitations. Thus, the applicant's arguments based on the disclosure is not commensurate in scope with the claims because, although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Thus, the rejection is maintained.

Art Unit: 1771

13. Further, as set forth above, the applicant does not clearly define the z-yarn and how it structurally relates to the intersecting yarn system components within the 3-D fabric. Are the z-yarn components the same or different from these yarn systems? Thus, the limitation is not sufficient to overcome the prior art.
